Debbie Hu, MSW, PhD

Life Care Manager

---

Debbie Hu is very excited to be one of the LivHOME Life Care Managers. Her passion is to help individuals find the best solutions for care given their available resources.

She earned a bachelor's degree in fine arts at Carnegie Mellon University. Debbie obtained a master of social work (MSW) and a PhD in social work from the University of Maryland in Baltimore.

Debbie previously worked in the health care industry as a social services director in a skilled nursing and rehabilitation facility and as a social worker with a hospice organization.

Prior to working in a skilled nursing home and hospice, Debbie was program director for a community residential program serving the severely mentally ill. The program helped many homeless individuals to reestablish a stable living situation with access to health care and mental health care and needed financial supports.

Debbie also was assistant manager for a large community-based program that supported developmentally disabled individuals in living out in the community with caregivers as an alternative to living in a facility. The program served profoundly disabled individuals and enabled them to live as independently as possible.

Debbie can be reached at (619) 544-1622 or by email at dhu@livhome.com.
